YANCEY HISTORY ASSOCIATION

[RUSH WRAY MUSEUM OF YANCEY HISTORY]

GENEALOGY LIBRARY

Lloyd Bailey Annex, 3 Academy St., Burnsville, North Carolina 28714

Open: Wednesday - Saturday 10 AM until 4 PM

The genealogy library has connected with the Yancey Public Library in on-line references of both library collections making it easy to check specific titles flagged as [In Museum Library] via the joint Dewey Decimal System begun in 2009.

Volunteers provide assistance to persons researching local and family histories.

Our Collection and Research materials include the following:

- ✦ Yancey County Records
- ✦ Local Family Histories
- ✦ DAR Index Books
- ✦ Rev. War Records
- ✦ Civil War Records
- ✦ Census Records
- ✦ Cemetery Survey's
- ✦ Limited County Records
- ✦ Individual Family Histories
- ✦ Neighboring County Records
- ✦ Neighboring State Records

The library is housed in lower level of the building at 3 Academy Street in the Lloyd Bailey Annex; parking is adjacent to the building/museum. Please come to the three doors facing the street side, the library and office is through the lower door. Our gift shop has local history books and gifts available for purchase.

Volunteers are available on a limited basis to assist you with telephone and written inquiries so please allow extra time for our response. Thank you!

We welcome any reference books or publications that you may no longer have need of; this is how our collection grows through the generosity of others like you.

Visit our Website or Facebook pages for our events in the near future.

Donations are appreciated and a small fee for Xerox copies
